

Project Confessionals – extracts of Argentinian press

"...This urban and chaotic conglomerate confesses its tales to the spectator/ listener/ confessor, which, rather than sins, constitute an intimate and pluralistic memory of neighbourhood life..."

(Juliana Rodríguez, La Voz del Interior, 21.09.08)

"...Confessionals is an installation, an act of surprise in the street, an urban experiment that plays with the imagination of centuries of private confessions, to speak of the residents of a city, and their love-hate relationship with the space where they live..."

(Beatriz Molinari, La Voz del Interior, 21.09.08)